

Every 9 seconds, a woman is battered in the United States.

Last year The Umbrella Center for Domestic Violence Services (UCDVS) provided free and confidential services including emergency shelter, 24-hour crisis counseling, court-based advocacy and other support services to over 7,000 adults and children fleeing abusive homes.

Each year, the demand for services continues to increase dramatically while state and federal funding continues to decrease.

The Bowl-2-Benefit is crucial to helping maintain and expand critical services that assist victims of domestic violence and their children to escape their abusers and rebuild safe lives.
